The role of Clara Online

OUR ROLE SUPPORTING THE INTERNET

Clara Online is a server hosting company that was founded in 1997. Server hosting, as its name suggests, entails the management and administration of server computers for the client. As part of our internet services, including server hosting, we strive to support our clients as much as possible. We provide 24-hour support 365 days a year from across Asia including Tokyo, Gifu, Beijing, Shanghai, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia) and Taipei. Hardware and network management, illegal access and other security issues can be left to our expertise, allowing clients to be freed from such daily troubles.

The term internet market might bring to mind topical areas such as web design, e-commerce, blogs and social networking services (SNS). Our business involving server management does not tend to get the same degree of attention as these activities. We are, however, very proud of our backstage role in supporting our clients who run these types of internet businesses, and indeed the internet as a whole. Whenever you use a computer or mobile phone to surf websites you access a server which silently sends you back the required data.

Asia number one

BECOMING NUMBER ONE IN ASIA AND WHAT IT MEANS

Clara Online, originally founded in Nagoya (Central Japan), expanded into Taiwan in 2004 and then Singapore in 2006. In 2007, our corporate headquarters moved to Tokyo and we are steadily expanding our operations. We aim to become Asia's number one internet service platform company. The American server hosting market is already engaged in fierce competition, but Asia is still a largely undeveloped market. Asia accounts for more than 40% of internet users.

As a region, Asia comprises various ethnicities, languages, nations, religions and cultures which can make it a particularly difficult place to do business. If we can become number one in Asia, then this will surely aid our prospects in the wider world market. Clara Online, a dynamic and richly diverse organization, is pressing forward into the Asia market.

APPRAISAL

Even if the client has no official CTO or IT representative, we appraise their needs and inform them regarding our offerings. For those clients with more advanced requirements, our corporate sales team and technology officers can visit the client company to discuss their situation.

INTRODUCTION

Once the client has decided on their preferred server type, we undertake stringent and independent quality testing of equipment before the server is launched. No hardware is introduced until this step is cleared. All settings are performed by Clara.

MANAGEMENT

All servers offered to our clients are constantly monitored, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. In the case where a server goes down, we do our utmost to get it quickly back up again. Depending on client needs, we can also customize memory, server settings or options if required.

Who we're looking for

NOTHING VENTURED, NOTHING GAINED

We want people who automatically take initiative and make things happen.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

We are seeking people who respect others from all backgrounds, regardless of their age, gender race, and nationality.

DO YOU AGREE WITH THE BELOW PRINCIPLES?

If so, then maybe Clara Online is the company for you!

THE INTERNET HAS NO BORDERS

Ideally, you should be keen to serve all those who use the internet.

Our guiding philosophy of "Contributing to the internet society and respecting diversity" refers to not just the internet itself, but is a promise to continue to embody the change the internet brings in contributing towards an open society.

Drawing upon varying abilities which go beyond age, nationality, ethnicity or gender, we are a diverse organization aiming to become number one in Asia.
